GREECE LEANING TOWARD ALLIES

Feeling Is More Hopeful in Entente Capitals.

SERBIANS DEFEAT BULGARS

Austro-Germans Are Said to Be Laboring Under Difficulties as a Result of the Wintry Weather—British and French Artillery Active on Western Front.

London, Nov. 23.—No definite news has been received here of Greece's reply to the entente allies' demands for guarantees for the safety of the Anglo-French forces landed at Saloniki, or for that of the Serbians who might be forced over the Greek frontier. One dispatch from Athens, however, says the Greek cabinet is disposed to accept the conditions laid down by the entente powers, except that condition requiring Greece to participate in the war, and that a solution of the whole difficulty may be expected immediately.

Meanwhile, the blockade of Greek commerce has commenced and Italy, it is reported, is participating in the measure of restraint decided upon. This, with the news that the Serbians have won a victory over the Bulgarians northeast of Pristina, that the Bulgarians have delayed their march on Monastir and that the Austro-Germans are laboring under difficulties as a result of the wintry weather, has created a more hopeful feeling in the capitals of the entente allies.

The British and French forces daily are being strengthened by men and guns landed at Saloniki and part of the reinforcements is being sent to Monastir, where the Serbians also are reported to be concentrating and threatening the Bulgarians at Pripel.

There is little news of importance from any of the other fronts. The Italians, by their continued offensive, are strengthening their positions around Gorizia, which, it is believed, cannot hold out much longer.

On the western front the British and French artillery has become more active in Flanders and Champagne, which on previous occasions has been the signal for offensive movements. The Russians, since they regained the ground they lost across the river Sty, have been inactive except for minor encounters in the Dvinsk region.

The Petrograd correspondents, however, predict that more important events are impending.

Another flotilla of British submarines is reported to have arrived in the Baltic.

WAR LOAN BONDS FOR WORKING CLASS

London, Nov. 23.—To attract a larger part of the savings of the working classes, the government proposes to issue war loan bonds of the value of £1 ($5) or multiples thereof, bearing 3 per cent interest.

In making this announcement in the house of commons Reginald McKenna, chancellor of the exchequer, said subscriptions to war loan vouchers—the plan previously adopted to attract small subscribers—had proved disappointing.

These subscriptions aggregated only £5,000,000.

The chancellor emphasized strongly the urgent necessity, in the interest of both themselves and the state, that persons now enjoying exceptional wages should save.

"Extravagant expenditure in any class cannot be tolerated," he continued.

ROOSEVELT NOT FOR ROOT

Close Friend Says Colonel Will Oppose New Yorker.

New York, Nov. 23.—A close friend of Theodore Roosevelt said that there is no possibility that Colonel Roosevelt will support Elihu Root if Mr. Root is the Republican nominee for president next year.

"The situation is just this," said this friend. "The Progressives will not support Mr. Root, and Colonel Roosevelt will not support him because the Progressives will not."

"The statement that Colonel Roosevelt has ever indicated that he would support Mr. Root under any circumstances is an absolute falsehood."

Escapes Hospital and Dies.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Helen Blatchford, a wealthy resident of Winnetka, a north shore suburb, and wife of a Chicago wholesale dealer, escaped from the Presbyterian hospital here and committed suicide in Lake Michigan near Lincoln park.

JANE ADDAMS.

Miss Addams gives out a list of noted "defectives" in support of her contention that the doctor should have saved the Bollinger child. She mentions Helen Keller, Napoleon, Marshall P. Wilder, Kaiser Wilhelm, Lord Byron, John Milton and others.

DERBY IS CONVINCED ALLIES WILL WIN

London, Nov. 23.—"The country is sound and it is determined to see this war through to the end," said the Earl of Derby in talking to the American correspondents regarding the British recruiting campaign of which he is in charge.

"The people are as determined to carry the war through as they were in August of last year and we will win it."

That much, Lord Derby said, he was willing to affirm as the result of the canvass of the country which he had been managing. More definite information he was obliged to withhold until the formal announcement of the results of the canvass which will be made Dec. 11.

In accordance with that policy he declined to answer questions whether responses had exceeded his expectations or otherwise, or to indicate whether the number of recruits obtained meets the war office requirements.

Lord Derby said it would be a great achievement if the nation carried the war to a successful end without compulsion. He attributed the previous failure of many to come forward largely to the fact that the necessities of the case had not been realized.

WILL RAISE 250,000 MEN

Fifty-five Battalions Have Already Left Canada.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 23.—Announcement was made by the militia department that 145 Canadian infantry battalions, with a total war strength of 160,000 men, exclusive of artillery, engineers and other branches of the service, had been authorized up to date. Of this number fifty-five battalions already have been sent to England or France and the other ninety are either now in training or organizing in Canada.

Including artillery, engineers and the various branches with each infantry battalion, the total number of men in the 145 battalions will be more than 250,000.

POSTAL SAVINGS $71,500,000

Deposits in October Increased $2,150,000 Above Preceding Month.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Postal savings deposits during October increased $2,150,000 over the preceding month, giving, according to postal officials, "a clear reflection of the great tide of prosperity and commercial activity that is sweeping over the country."

Savings on deposit on Oct. 31 aggregated $71,500,000 and the individual depositors numbered 552,000. New York city, excluding Brooklyn, had $14,822,050 of this total.

TIBATI TAKEN BY ALLIES

Surprise Attack in Western Africa Puts Teutons to Rout.

Paris, Nov. 23.—Official announcement was made of the capture by the French and British forces of the city of Tibati, in the German colony of Kamerun, Western Africa, as the result of a surprise attack.

LATEST WAR NEWS

GERMAN SOCIALISTS ARE DETERMINED TO FIGHT

(By United Press)

Berlin, Nov. 23.—The German socialists are now determined to fight to the end of a long war rather than agree to peace, and socialists are no longer praying for an early peace. This is the view given in an interview by Philip Scheidemann, socialist member of the Reichstag, who declared the German socialist party would never be for the kind of peace that was offered by the allies. Scheidemann declared the passing of the food crisis had brought about a change in public opinion. Those who were talking peace recently are now looking forward to the German approach on Suez. The enormous crop of potatoes is pointed to and is stated Germany has enough potatoes to make flour and to supply other food and make spirits for automobiles and Zeppelins.

BULGARIANS REPULSED AT MONASTIR

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 23.—Ten thousand Bulgarians have been killed and wounded in the fighting about Monastir. The Bulgar forces attacked the town Saturday. Salonika advices say it was learned for the first time that the assault was repulsed. Repeated earlier advices said the town had fallen. The Serbs fought desperately and by reckless courage turned the tide of battle in their favor, and forced the Bulgars to retreat. The city is now strongly reinforced, and it is believed will hold out. A big battle is expected. Pripil is reported as burning.

GREECE YIELDS SUFFICIENTLY TO OBTAIN FORCIBLE COERCION

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 23.—Greece is believed to have yielded sufficiently to the demands of the allies to obviate the necessity of forcible coercion. This is the construction placed upon the denial of the blockade of Greek ports. If the Athens government had not agreed to maintain the "hands off" policy it is believed her ports would be blockaded and shipping tied up.

BRITISH BEATEN BY TURKS

(By United Press)

Berlin, Nov. 23.—Beaten by Turks, a British force of 170,000 was thrown back from Bagdad. The British troops made a successful march from Egypt and were within ten miles of Bagdad and were threatening an important railway terminal. The Turks were not caught napping, however, and succeeded after several engagements in driving the British 30 miles back from the city.

GERMAN SUPPLIES REACH TURKS

(By United Press)

Bucharest, Nov. 23.—Huge quantities of military supplies from Germany are now pouring through Bulgaria for the Turks. Thus far 1,400 carloads of ammunition, artillery, and hospital necessities have been landed in Bulgarian Danube ports. One shipment included two 42-centimeter guns for the Ottoman defense of the Gallipoli peninsula.

MANY PRISONERS TAKEN

(By United Press)

Berlin, Nov. 23.—The capture by Austro-Germans and Bulgarians of 9,000 more Serbians is announced in a war office statement. 1,500 being captured by the rear guard actions north of Mitrovitza, and 8,000 more were caught during the Bulgar advance.

GREEK PORTS NOT BLOCKADED

(By United Press)

London, Nov. 23.—The foreign office has officially denied that any Greek ships are being seized or are held at British ports, or that a blockade of the Greek coast has been established.

Woman's Peace Party Uge Conference

(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 23.—Every woman in the United States who has any feeling for mothers in the warring countries of Europe are invited by the Woman's Peace Party to wire President Wilson urging him to call a conference of neutral nations to end the war. Preparations have been made for the greatest bombardment of telegrams ever directed at the White House. Mrs. Henry Ford donated $10,000 for sending the telegrams to the officers of all women's clubs in the country. Each telegram is to be signed by Jane Addams.

Considering Ancona Case

(By United Press)

Rome, Nov. 23.—The Ancona case supposedly was the topic of a conference between the foreign minister Sonnino and Ambassador Page. The Italian government laid all information it had gathered regarding the Ancona sinking before the Ambassador.

Cyclone and Flood Destroy

(By United Press)

Rome, Nov. 23.—Cyclones and wide spread floods are reported from Sicily, many of the population perishing.

Receiving First Government Order Ever Sent by Wireless Telephone

Secretary of the Navy Daniels lifted from his desk in Washington an ordinary telephone receiver connected with the naval observatory at Arlington, six miles off, while Admiral Usher, commandant of the New York navy yard, took up a receiver connected with the Western Electric Company in Manhattan, four miles away. Then the aerial received the first official order ever sent over the wireless phone. The conversation of the secretary of the navy and the admiral ran thus:

Daniels—Hello.

Usher—How do you do, Mr. Secretary?

D.—Very well, admiral; how are you?

U.—Very well, thank you.

D.—You are looking well. Can you hear me distinctly?

U.—Yes, very plainly.

D.—Your voice sounds very distinct. I want to give you an order over this wire; will you have a stenographer take it down? It is an official message.

Extra Private Police Guard Capitol Tunnel

Washington, Nov. 23.—Six extra private police guard the railway tunnel leading under the capitol grounds. It was denied that threats had been made to blow up the tunnel but it was admitted that extra guards were on a 24 hour shift.

Bad Fire at Canby

Canby, Minn., Nov. 23.—An entire block in the business district of this place was wiped out by fire this morning, causing a damage estimated at $150,000. A high wind prevailed and the low temperature hindered the firemen in fighting the blaze. The origin was unknown.

RAILWAY WILL DREDGE LAKE

Project at Devils Lake Calls for Big Pumping Plant.

Devils Lake, N. D., Nov. 23.—An undertaking by which the west end of Sweetwater lake will be dredged, creating a great reservoir, will be started in a few days by the Great Northern railway in order to protect, at least temporarily, the water supply for engines in this city.

A dragline will be used in excavating a ditch 1,000 feet in length, 150 feet wide and 20 feet deep, from which water can be pumped six miles in the treating plant maintained by the Great Northern in Devils Lake.

What effect the reservoir will have on the remainder of Sweetwater lake, which receded several feet this year, is a question which is being asked by farmers and sportsmen in the vicinity of the lake. It is on this lake that the L. W. Hill duckpass, where millions of birds have been killed, is located.

TRAMPS WARNED NOT TO VISIT NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 23.—Vagrants who invade this city by the thousands every winter seeking food and shelter will have to earn their living this winter as the result of a concerted movement by the heads of city departments.

"New York has all it can do to take care of its own destitute and unemployed," said Police Commissioner Woods. "It has not the means to support the tramps now on their way here, and it is not going to. The city serves warning now that every tramp picked up in the street will be put at hard manual labor."

"Bogging for a living in New York this winter will be a precarious occupation. There is plenty of construction work to do and we will not lack jobs for the vagrants."

MISUSE OF VESSELS DENIED BY BRITISH

London, Nov. 23.—A second categorical denial was given by the British admiralty to German statements that British hospital ships are being used for other than hospital purposes.

The announcement says there are forty-two and not seventy hospital ships plying to and from the Mediterranean and that they carry only sick or wounded soldiers, nurses and members of the medical staff and medical stores.

All the ships, the admiralty says, are ballasted to secure safety, but they are not deeply laden. They are painted, it is asserted, as required by the Geneva convention. The announcement concludes:

"Previous experience suggests this series of falsehoods foreshadows attacks on British hospital ships by German submarines."

PEACE MEETING POSTPONED

International Congress Will Not Convene at Berne Dec. 14.

Boston, Nov. 23.—The international congress to study bases for a durable peace, heretofore announced to be held at Berne Dec. 14, has been postponed, according to cable advices received by Mrs. Fannie Fern Andrews of Boston, the only American member of the international executive committee.

A meeting of the international executive committee will be held at Berne Jan. 5 to select another date for the congress.

German Dreadnought Sunk.

London, Nov. 23.—A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Rotterdam says: "One of Germany's newest dreadnoughts struck a mine Friday in the Baltic sea and went to the bottom. All the members of the crew were saved except thirty-three, who were drowned."

Fatal Hotel Fire at Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Glen Fournston was burned to death and nine firemen overcome by smoke in a fire at the Burton hotel in the loop section. One hundred guests fled to the streets, thinly clad. A dozen women, drenched with water that froze on their nightgowns, were given medical attention in a nearby hotel.

AUSTRIAN ENVOY ENTERS PROTEST

Asks Repudiation of Allegations Against Consuls.

ACTIONS TERMED ILLEGAL

Attorney General Gregory Confers With Counsellor Polk of the State Department Regarding Gorica Accusations, but No Outline of Their Intentions Is Made Public.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Baron Erich Zwiadinek, charge of the Austrian embassy called at the state department and entered a protest against the issuance in the name of the department of justice of a statement which he said appeared to be in confirmation of the allegations of illegal activities on the part of the Austrian consular officers made by Dr. Joseph Gorica, former Austrian consul.

As a result of the charge's visit Counsellor Polk of the state department conferred at length with Attorney General Gregory.

It was understood Mr. Polk informed the attorney general that Baron Zwiadinek, in resenting the statement, had suggested that the department of justice repudiate it, if it actually was not issued with its authority.

There was no intimation in official circles that this might be done, although it was generally understood the statement objected to actually was put out without the personal knowledge of the attorney general.

It was learned Baron Zwiadinek had transmitted a communication on the subject to Secretary Lansing, although announcement of the receipt of this communication has not been made by the state department.

The Austrian embassy, it was said at the state department, had not entered an official denial of the charges made by Dr. Gorica, although an informal denial had been made in a letter.

RIOT LASTS THREE HOURS

Canadian Soldiers and Police Have Bitter Clash.

London, Ont., Nov. 23.—Bad blood, which has existed between members of the Third third battalion, Canadian expeditionary force, and the local police, culminated in the worst rioting ever experienced in London.

For more than three hours squads of police fought hundreds of soldiers, the latter being armed with bricks and cobblestones. The police fired many shots from their revolvers and used their clubs. So far as can be learned no one was shot, but several soldiers were taken to Victoria hospital suffering with cracked skulls and five policemen were injured.

SILENT AS TO REPARATION

Lansing and Bernstorff Agree to Withhold Results of Conference.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Secretary Lansing and Ambassador Bernstorff of Germany have agreed not to make public any information regarding their conversations over reparation to be made by Germany for the American lives lost on the Lusitania.

Secretary Lansing let this be known in declining to comment on reports that Germany, through the ambassador, had proposed to pay an indemnity of $5,000 each for the lost Americans and that the offer had been declined.

WOULD REPEAL DEER LAW

Sportsmen Complain Does Are Being Shot and Left in the Woods.

New Richmond, Wis., Nov. 23.—A movement is on for the amendment or repeal of the state law which limits deer hunters in this state to one deer and that a buck. H. F. Barnes, one of the sponsors, says that the law prohibiting the shooting of does is not protecting, but is increasing the slaughter of deer, that more deer are being slain in the Northern Wisconsin woods than ever before in the history of the state and at that many hunters are returning to their homes empty handed. Hunters at a distance are unable to distinguish between does and young bucks and in most instances they shoot at whatever they see.

Italians Meet Repulse.

Berlin, Nov. 23.—Recounting the operations in the battle for Gorizia the Austro-Hungarian official report received here from Vienna announces that Austrian troops drove the Italians from all the positions which they had captured Nov. 20 in the Osavia section and also ejected the Italians who entered the Austrian lines in the district of San Martino.

F-4 DEATHS IS SOUGHT.

Report of Special Board Referred by Daniels to Navy Bureau Heads.

Secretary Daniels has referred to the bureau heads of the navy department the special board of experts' report ascribing the destruction of the submarine F-4 in Honolulu harbor last March to corroded battery tanks and corroded rivets.

A searching investigation to determine the responsibility for this condition is expected to follow. The bureau heads are instructed to review the report in the light of their technical and practical knowledge and designate to the secretary the person or persons if any, who may be held culpable for the failure to make known the condition of the battery tanks whose linings were eaten through by sulphuric acid.

Henry R. Carse, president of the Electric Boat company, which built the F-4, declared that the corrosion found by the investigators indicated a lack of care. While not agreeing with the board of experts that the corroded battery tanks and rivets constituted the primary cause of the disaster, he admitted that such parts of the submarine were liable to corrosion and should be regularly overhauled.

The F-4 is said by naval officials to have been inspected only a short time before the accident in Honolulu harbor. The question is being asked if it was a fault of the inspection that the condition of the battery tanks apparently was overlooked.

Having in mind as a precedent the recent action of Secretary Daniels in halting Rear Admiral William S. Little, a retired officer of the navy, before a court martial for his alleged act of accepting one of the K boats before certain defects were remedied, many are of the opinion that Daniels will be as severe in this case and will order a thorough probe of the F-4 disaster as soon as the report of the bureau heads is in.

Quebec's Fortifications.

The fortifications of Quebec are obsolete as fortifications, but remain as picturesque additions to the beauty and interest of "The Gibraltar of America." The fortifications standing consist of walls and a citadel built in 1823-32 at a cost of over $7,000,000. Between 1865 and 1871 three forts were built on the Levis side of the river, but were not armed or manned. The citadel occupies more than forty acres. No trace of the old French fortifications remains.

Brainerd at heart. From a business viewpoint it is an asset to any city and is the means of identifying that city from all others.

Too much credit cannot be allowed the conductor and members of the orchestra for the enthusiastic manner in which they are working to bring the orchestra to that ideal state.

Among other numbers to be played is the famous "Moonlight Sonata" by the world's greatest composer and creator of symphonies, Ludwig von Beethoven. Many stories have been written as to what inspired the writing of this particularly pleasing musical poem, all of which are erroneous.

What inspired this great work will always remain unknown.

The most pretentious number is the "Introduction and Prayer" from Wagner's "Rienzi," his most dramatic opera which among all others is played annually at Frau Wagner's own theatre at Bayreuth, Germany, which theatre was built as a lasting memorial by Wagnerian enthusiasts of Europe. Several other numbers complete the program which is as fol-

Thanksgiving
Luck

Thanksgiving comes upon the trail
Of Autumn's russet gown,
And, never mind how much we rail
At price of turkey, pig or quail,
We'll eat our dinner without fail
And chuckle when it's down.

"ONE LONG, HAPPY, HEARTFELT SIGH"
Nobody ever counts the cost
Of chicken, pie or duck
When in Thanksgiving morning's frost
The appetite we thought we'd lost
Comes back for only then we wish
We might have emptied every dish
And even if the price was high
Our one long, happy, heartfelt sigh
Is for our great good luck.
—Lurana Sheldon in New York Times

Thanksgiving day is a festival for elderly people. The movement on that day is toward the home where the father and mother, the grandfather and grandmother, live. It matters not if we have made a home for ourselves and if it be ever so happy, it is to the home of boy-hood or girlhood that we turn on this day.

Turkey Not From Turkey.
It is unfortunate that such a truly American product as the turkey should have received such a name. Just how it came to be christened "turkey" is a matter of conjecture, but one early writer says: "It appears to have been intended as a satire upon the solemn strut of the bird, which might appear to give it a resemblance to the pompous stride of a Turk. Most assuredly it did not arise from the native place of the bird, which has no connection with eastern Europe or Asia. To suppose the bird meagre, mentioned by Greek writers, to have been the turkey is quite a mistake. When discovered in America it was seen both in a wild and domestic state."

A SMART TAILLEUR.

Russian green catbird is used for this design, which is richly trimmed with different widths of black silk braids. The front is vested with tan brocade and fastens at one side with a black silk tassel. The collar collar is faced with tan broadcloth, and the crown of the collar is circled with tiny strich feathers.

The Tartar's Foot.

the foot of a certain type of savage,
and the toes are all the same length.

MISS LUTIE STEARNS

Distinguished Lecturer to Speak Under Musical Club Auspices
December 1

On December 1st Miss Lutie Stearns of Milwaukee, will give a talk on "The Problem of Public Leisure" at the Chamber of Commerce, appearing under the auspices of the Brainerd Musical club. The admission will be 25c and the net proceeds will be devoted to the fun for keeping the library open every day. Miss Stearns has a wide reputation as a popular speaker on many subjects, a speaker who combines wit and common sense in a way to please all hearers.

The following criticisms from Los Angeles, gives some idea of her work:
"Miss Lutie Stearns, teacher, lecturer, club woman, library expert, and general humanitarian, was the speaker of the day. The audience listened with breathless attention, fearing to lose a word, and checking their laughter and applause at almost every phrase, lest they miss the next one. It was not studded with a brilliant idea or a funny comment here and there—it was all of one kind, sparkling and flashing with wit from first to last."

The Cincinnati Daily says: "Miss Stearns address was one of the best features of the convention. In her inimitable way she in turn convulsed her audience with her flashing wit, or played upon its emotions. She showed the wonderful powers of observation she possesses, and her fine philosophy born of the mingling of rare good sense and a keen sense of humor, together with a rare knowledge of human nature, with its virtues and failings. Miss Stearns' personality is irresistible and she swayed her audience at will."

Thanksgiving day ought to mean much to churchgoers. It is the one day in the year on which sectarians sink all their differences and unite in a common worship before God.

GOOD ROADS DID IT

Just an example of what good roads will do for any state, county or city the following is cited:

Resulting from the meeting of the Jefferson Highway association in New Orleans a few days ago, St. Paul has been placed on the trail to connect the southern city named with Winnipeg, Man. In selecting the route from the two submitted, preference was given to the one passing through Minnesota rather than the one traversing Nebraska, South and North Dakota because of the better roads already existing in this state. The Jefferson Highway route as adopted by the association passes through Austin, Owatonna, Faribault, Northfield, Farmington, St. Paul, Anoka, Elk River, St. Cloud, Alexandria, Fergus Falls, Crookston and thence through the Red River Valley to Winnipeg. About three-fourths of this portion in Minnesota is graveled and about one-half of the remainder has been somewhat improved.

WHAT IT MEANS

Here is the gist of President Wilson's war preparation program, as seen by the editor of the St. Cloud Journal-Press:

If congress adopts to the full the administration program for preparedness it will make the United States the third power of the world in the number of fighting men on a peace footing. This does not refer to strength in fortifications, munitions and ships.

If the program is adopted just as the administration leaders have outlined, the United States will have within eight years the greatest aggregation of trained fighting men of any nation in the world, even greater than the combined resources of Germany and Austria before the war broke out in Europe.

Can any sane man give a reason for the building up in this country of so large a fighting force, even greater than the combined forces of Austria and Germany before the war—and no nation was ever quite so well prepared for the war as was Germany—and incidentally it was the preparation that led Germany to believe that she could whip all the allied powers. There was no occasion for war and it was this preparation that convinced Germany that it had the opportunity to become the master of Europe, that led to the senseless slaughter.

When this war is over, which will not be for many months, every one of the European nations will be practically bankrupted, and its fighting men will either be under the sod, or cripples. For the next twenty-five years they will be devoting their energies towards rebuilding their industries, and war on the United States will be the last of their thoughts. There never was a time in the past hundred years when there was so little danger of any foreign country making war on the United States, and certainly the United States has no wish to make war on any other nation. Reasonable preparations against surprises will be all right, but why burden us with a fighting force, the largest in the world?

EAT LESS MEAT
IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

How Will Carranza Finance Mexico?

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Will Uncle Sam become Mexico's financial angel? This question is the absorbing problem involved in establishing the Carranza government.

That financial help must be given by the United States to Mexico is admitted by officials. The form such aid should take is the principal hitch. High State Department officials intimate that the government cannot appear as a principal in securing credit for Carranza. Its normal support, however, is assured.

The modus operandi probably will be as follows: After Carranza's agents in New York have made guarded overtures to financiers for a loan, quiet inquiries will be made of the State Department if such a loan has the approval of the government. Inquiry will be made as to whether the U. S. would back up the loan in case Carranza's government should fail and collection from a new administration be made necessary. If agents of financiers receive such assurances, the loan will be made, with bonds of the new Mexican government as security.

That Carranza must secure his loan in this country is regarded as certain. Europe's money markets are not open to him. It is possible he might place part of a bond issue with Argentine bankers. The bulk of the transaction must, however, be handled by New York financiers.

Re-establishing Mexico's financial system presents many difficulties to Carranza. Hundreds of counterfeit issues of money are afloat. Villa has issued millions of currency now valueless. In Mexico City alone there are a score of repudiated issues. Huerta's currency is worthless.

Carranza who has announced that he will establish a gold standard for Mexico, with a new currency system similar to the federal reserve act of this country, but he probably will not be able to do it until a new Mexican congress is legally elected.

Regarding the immense debt burden faced by Carranza, payment will be effected, according to information here, through claim commissions. Carranza will assent to mixed claims commissions to deal separately with each country presenting claims. Assurance by Carranza that he would honor foreign claims was one of the conditions upon which he was recognized as chief executive. These claims total about $300,000,000.

The Mexican mixed claims commission will, it is reported, be composed of representatives of the interested nations, but the U. S. will not officially participate in collections of claims of other nations.

The claims Carranza assumes run back five years from the ousting of President Diaz. No claims for property destroyed and confiscated during that and successive revolutions have ever been paid. This involves lengthy and complicated negotiations before payment of the claims, to establish national responsibility for property losses in the many major and minor revolts.

Solicitor Cone Johnson of the State Department has active charge of the American claims. Many of these have been on file for years, awaiting re-establishment of a stable government from which payment could be demanded. Railroad, mining, oil and ranching interests are the principal American claimants. Americans are stock and bond holders of the Mexican National and other railroads and telegraph companies which have suffered the brunt of revolutions.

Only a small part of the American claims, which now aggregate about $150,000,000, have been filed with the State Department. Others are being received daily.

Keeping Roads In Order.

Macadam, concrete and other strongly surfaced highways for the present are primarily for the main roads, says the Laporte Herald. The thousands of side roads, which are little traveled, will have to get along without expensive pavements for many years.

But even these need not be in bad shape or impassable, as some of them are in rainy weather.

The modern cheap machine or grader, when used in the spring, is a great thing for roads and the tempers of those who have to use them.

More than this, the road drag can be used after each rain; the results are satisfactory wherever used. This, of course, applies to earth or gravel roads. A drag keeps them in fine shape throughout the year.

What ails some of our dirt roads is not that they are inherently bad, but that nobody takes care of them. If they are properly looked after with drags they won't be the butt of so many jokes.

Thousands of miles of them are going to be with us for a great many years; might as well see that they are as good as drags can make them.

Even a macadam road doesn't amount to much in a few years if it isn't taken care of.

POSSIBILITY OF CAPTURE OF GORIZT

By J. W. T. Mason, for United Press

For the first time since the Italian campaign along the Isonzo river began, possibility is now developing of the capture of Goritz, which commands the most important crossings on the waterway separating the Austro-Hungarian and Italian lines.

General Cadorna has changed his tactics, after six months of experiments, and is now concentrating his guns and his reserve troops along a small front of 12 miles, centering before Goritz. Hitherto the Italian commander has scattered his effective strength and has tried to drive forward everywhere at once. What is known as the Isonzo line measures about 50 miles. All its possible vulnerable places have been under Italian fire simultaneously many times, but nowhere until the present attack on Goritz began, has a major concentration occurred at any single point.

Both the British and French many months ago abandoned long line offensive positions. The result is seriously endangering the Austro-Hungarian positions defending Goritz, and is making possible the first considerable Italian victory of the war.

Goritz is the military center of the Austro-Hungarian Isonzo armies. Its fall would require a rearrangement of the Austro-Hungarian supply system at the very least, leading possibly to an early retirement from Goritz to southern shores of the Gulf of Trieste.

Trieste itself is 15 miles further to the south of the gulf's headlands. The capture of the seaport is General Cadorna's chief objective, and after occupying Goritz, all his attention would be given to reaching Trieste.

Properly to protect Trieste, the Austro-Hungarians would be compelled to lengthen their front. This fact might in the end be the most important consequence of the fall of Goritz. To obtain additional troops to guard the Trieste lines it might be necessary to recall Austro-Hungarians from the Russian and Serbian fronts. A development such as this might permit Italy to exercise, for the first time, a beneficent military influence on the fortunes of her allies.

The Broken Truce

BY ED. L. KEEN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

London, Oct. 9 (By Mail).—To support his charge that capital has exploited labor during this war the British workman cites the employer's own books showing, he says, excessive profits from war business. He cites for example:

Spillers, flour millers of Cardiff, last year declared a profit of $1,835,000, an increase of $1,135,000 over the average of the last 3 years. The Powell Duffryn Colliery Co., profit $2,110,000, increase $650,000; Ebbw Vale Coal & Iron Co., profit $710,000, increase $325,000; Lanchet Brothers, profit $780,000, increase $280,000.

It was the business as usual policy that aroused the workmen. They began demonstrations. At first there was no suggestion of striking. But demonstrations and resolutions brought no results. Real wages steadily declined. Except in munitions trades where overtime was paid, nominal wages were stationary. To date to offset the 40 per cent increase in living cost, wages in organized trades have increased only 10 per cent; and in unorganized trades hardly at all. Of nearly ten million workers not more than three million have received increases. Only the threat of concerted industrial action induced employers to concede this much mainly in war bonuses, labor says.

Moreover, the war was being conducted in silence. The government wouldn't tell what was happening. There was no incentive for the workman to show interest in the war's progress, there was every incentive for him to show increased interest in his own welfare.

So the industrial truce, declared at the beginning, was broken. Despite this there have been only 30 strikes since August, 1914, involving more than 250 workers each. The biggest of these were the Clyde and South Wales coal strikes, in both of which, although the truce was violated, there was no violation of contracts. Notice was given by the unions of their demand for a new agreement to replace the one about to expire. There would have been no strike if the men had followed the advice of their leaders, who endeavored to keep the truce. The men were angry. They insisted that on patriotism there should be one rule for employer and employee.

If it was patriotic for employers to pile up enormous war profits it was not unpatriotic for employee to demand a portion of them for the men suffering financially because of the war. Then men won a partial victory, largely, they say, because the government finally realized the justice of their contentions. Both strikes were the result of revolt against exploitation. In neither case—nor in any of the minor strikes did the workers ask for a larger increase than the rise in the cost of living warranted. In practically every case the advances have been inadequate to meet the new conditions of life, the men say.

Labor feels that the attitude of the British press has widened this gulf between employers and employees. The strikers have been called traitors. There has been practically no condemnation of the employers. The press has charged that German gold made this industrial unrest, but no proof of this has been shown.

Much has been said of the enmity of the men in the trenches toward the strikers. Here is one story on the other side:

It was the night before the men of the Glamorgan colliery were to vote on the strike. Jack Hughes, chairman, had been advised by Tom Richards, labor member of Parliament from that district, to go slow. "Think it well over," said Richards. "Remember that it is our pals in the navy and at the front who will suffer."

While thinking it over, Hughes met a group of his colliery chums, wounded and home from the war. Two of them were about to return to the trenches for the third time; one was going back for the second time.

"Boys," said Hughes, "what will the South Wales colliers in the trenches think of us if we strike?"

"It's their wish and ours," was the quick reply, "that you strike with all your might. We are with you and for you."

BEAUTIFYING DIXIE HIGHWAY.

Southern Women Plan Conservation of Natural Growth.

With the Dixie highway, running from Chicago to Miami, ready to be dedicated and opened for practical purposes on next Thanksgiving day, the clubwomen of the states from the gulf to the great lakes are organizing for the purpose of permanently beautifying this transnational highway so that its scenic beauty from one end to the other will be a delight to the tourists.

The initial organization of the clubwomen was perfected at Gayton, Ga., where about fifty women banded themselves together for the purpose of assisting in the Dixie highway movement in Edgingham county, Ga. The movement is spreading, and it is sought to include the clubwomen along the entire route. The plan of the women includes the co-operation also of the boy scouts, the school children and the schoolteachers.

The first work which the women plan is the conservation and the preservation of the natural growths, trees, shrubs, flowers and grasses along the route. The importance of this work, the women say, cannot be overestimated, and they are seeking immediate action.

To use the present growth as a keynote and fill with masses until the grouping is that of Mother Nature herself is the plan and calls for the utilization of every natural advantage on the way from Chicago to Miami.

One effective plan being carried out by a woman's club is to secure the active co-operation of the various companies of boy scouts, giving each company a section of the highway to beautify by carrying away rubbish, cutting down weeds and planting trees. Each tree planted along the section allotted to a particular boy scout company is named after a member of the company. The boy scouts, the school children and teachers as well as the clubwomen will make such plantings. No digging and no transplanting will be done except under expert and skilled supervision.

She Didn't Dance.

In 1736 a gentleman living in Hampshire, England, named Samuel Baldwin, died after a rather stormy and most unhappy married life. In his will he directed that all his vast estate be given his wife on condition that she should dance upon his grave from time to time. As the will further instructed that his remains should be taken by boat to the Needles and from there cast into the sea, this, of course, prevented his widow from fulfilling the conditions of the will and thus lost her the property. He, however, had his revenge for the various tempers she had exhibited and for the remarks she often made that she would yet "dance upon his grave."

Thanksgiving's Uplift

Persons who are modern and ungrateful refuse to be preached to. They do not go to church on Thanksgiving day. They stay at home and read novels or newspapers and yawn and wish the shops were open or that some one would come in for a game of bridge, or perhaps they go to the matinee. But when the shadows fall there is no sense of serenity or of peace such as broods over a household where every member has received a spiritual uplift from the observance of a day of thanks.

That's why there ought to be an "old fashioned" Thanksgiving in every home where this paper is read. The proclamation of our president each year demands that we give thanks not only as individuals, but as a people.

If you are dissatisfied with the result of the election you are probably saying, "Could anything be worse than the political situation this year?"

Well, there might be war or revolution. And the political situation isn't really affecting your comfort, is it? Then be thankful for peace.

Be thankful for plenty.
Be thankful for health.
Be thankful for friends and a home and the love of the dear ones in your home.

The Basis of Thankfulness.

The unqualified acceptance of life, with all its mystery and pain, all its labor and weariness and yet with all its sweetness and joy and all its latent potentiality—that is and forever must be the basis of true gratitude, the one great theme for thanks. Unless you are grateful for life itself you cannot be truly glad for anything that life contains. But being grateful for life itself adds a tinge of celestial glory to every simple blessing and makes today akin to the vast forever.

TRY "CASCARETS" FOR

IF SICK OR BILIOUS

Tonight! Clean Your Bowels and Stop
Headache, Colds, Sour
Stomach

Get a 10-cent box now.
Turn the rascals out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach and bad colds—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from any drug store means a clear head, sweet stomach and clean, healthy liver and bowel action for months. Children love Cascarets because they never sicken or sicken—Advt.

GOOD ROAD MANAGEMENT.

Summarized briefly, the essentials to successful state highway administration, as demonstrated by the experience of the various state highway departments, are as follows: The elimination of politics as a factor in state highway work; the control by the state highway department of all work on which state funds are expended; adequate appropriations for continuous maintenance of highways under efficient supervision from the day the highways are completed; state supervision as to surveys, plans and specifications of roads and bridges constructed under bond issues and supervision of such other road and bridge work as requires considerable cash outlay and the exercise of engineering skill and knowledge.—Year Book, United States Department of Agriculture.

King Edward Liked Turkey.

The late King Edward VII. of England, traveling in America in 1890, conceived a liking for roasted turkey with oyster and chestnut dressing and with cranberry sauce and for Albaric apple pies and raisin apples. In after years, when he came into possession of Sandringham, he caused arrangements to be made by his steward whereunder those delicacies were forwarded from America at regular times.

"Think of your mercies, children," is a very good quotation to bear in mind whenever troubles threaten to overwhelm us, and really if you do think of your mercies you will surely find that the troubles and the mercies are about evenly balanced in most lifetimes, even though during their visitations we do not always think so.

BOWLING BULLETIN

McNulty's Colts Trim Blake's All Stars 2158 to 2048 at the Club Alleys

McNulty's Colts were victors over Blake's All Stars last evening at "The Club" bowling alleys. The All Stars were too much for the Colts in the first game but in the second and third the Colts gave the All Stars a surprise and showed them a little sign of form and won out.

The Colts would like to meet any team in the city and send a special challenge to the regular M. & I. team. Score of last evening:

INSTRUCT 2,500 ASSESSORS

Minnesota Counties will be Visited By Tax Commission in the Spring—Crow Wing on List

Nearly 2,500 assessors in all counties of the state will receive instructions during visits of members of the Minnesota tax commission to be made in February, March and April. The itinerary of the visitors was made public by H. A. S. Ives, secretary of the commission.

The law requires that one or more members of the commission shall visit at least half of the counties annually and shall visit every county at least once in two years. The three commissioners, Samuel Lord, L. D. Armson and J. T. Hale and the secretary will make the instruction visits, each one being assigned a number of counties.

Real estate will be re-assessed throughout the state next year, which makes the meetings of the assessors in 1916 doubly important.

The county auditor has received no notice of the date of the commissioners' visit to this county this year, but they will undoubtedly come here.

PREVENT MISSISSIPPI FLOODS

This Important Question will be Discussed at Federal Dam Early in December by Conference

Legislation affecting more than half a million acres of land in northern Minnesota will be discussed at a meeting to be held at Federal Dam about December 8, when the matter of lowering the high waters in the vicinity of Leech lake will be taken up.

This action comes as a result of a conference of the Federal Dam Commercial club and Geo. A. Ralph, formerly Minnesota state drainage engineer. The conference was held at Federal Dam and the Commercial club members decided that a meeting should be called to which representatives will be invited from all towns, cities and villages along the Mississippi river valley districts affected by the six Federal reservoirs which are located at Leech, Winnepigoshish, Pokegama, Sandy and Gull lakes, and at Pine river. It will also include the representatives of all the water power companies that will be affected by this action, all of which are between St. Paul and Grand Rapids.

It is the intention of the Commercial club at Federal Dam that the state drainage commissioner and federal engineer will have charge of the meeting, at which it is the purpose of the citizens of Federal Dam and the residents in the vicinities of the various reservoirs to ask that the river be straightened in places and the reservoirs be lowered three feet during the fall and winter months. It is the opinion of the Federal Dam Commercial club that if this is done the vast meadows and hay lands in the vicinity of the reservoirs will be protected against annual summer floods and that the water power companies will have an abundance of water during the winter months by emptying the reservoirs.

In the vast territory affected is 540,000 acres of reserve land in which there are many acres of meadow land which is made useless each year by the summer floods. These floods, the residents in the vicinity of the reservoirs assert, are caused by the spring waters coming down the Mississippi river and when they reach the reservoirs, which are full, the stream overflows, putting the hay crops under water for the greater part of the summer. The remainder of the land belongs to settlers or private owners. It is also the intention of the settlers in that vicinity that if the waters in the reservoir are lowered to ask the government to rent the meadow lands on the federal reserve lands for hay and grazing purposes.

The territory to be affected lies between Bemidji and Brainerd and the problem of eliminating the floods is one that has confronted the people of Aitkin county for many years. They are therefore vitally interested in the objects of this meeting and should send delegates to participate in its deliberations, says the Aitkin Age.

THE EAGLES FINE PROGRAM

Anniversary Celebration on Wednesday Evening, Nov. 24, at Citizens State Bank Hall

S. R. ADAIR, THE TOASTMASTER

Program Begins at 8 O'clock, Banquet About 10 in the Evening, the Program in Detail

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will celebrate Wednesday evening, Nov. 24, at the Citizens State bank hall with a most pretentious program, beginning at 8 o'clock and following at 10 in the evening with a superb banquet served by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. West, well known caterers. To this evening of celebration have been invited all members and their families.

S. R. Adair is the toastmaster of the evening. He is a very eloquent speaker, keen, and witty who can serve with the aplomb so necessary to an occasion of this sort. If he flies high in his remarks it is because he is an Eagle and such birds are not of the air and disdain to be tied down to the commonplace.

Many of the Eagles have a place on the program. There is the F. O. E. orchestra which will discourse sweet music. There is such a feast of good things that a man not an Eagle will wish he was one all right. Here is what Toastmaster Adair will announce from his seat in the period:

BASKETBALL

Seizes Hold of Brainerd High School, Seniors and Freshmen Clashed Last Night

Basketball has again seized a hold on the Brainerd high school and the summer's dust on the auditorium floor has been brushed away. Last night the Seniors and Freshmen clashed, but the newcomers were defeated by the Senior quint. The first half was very exciting, the score being very close all the time. The first half closed with the score 7 to 5 in favor of the Seniors. Most of the Senior points were made by field baskets while the Freshmen made point after point on fouls. The last half ended with the score 17 to 9 in favor of the Seniors.

On Wednesday afternoon next, after dismissal, the Juniors will play the Sophomores for the honors. The class games will continue until December 18. On Dec. 19 the championship game will be played. The team having the highest percentage will receive a banner similar to the one awarded the Freshmen of last year. A first team will be developed in the near future. There is much splendid material and a very good team is expected. The men who make the best showing in the inter-class tournament will likely be selected to try for positions on the first team.

The only men who played in games last year who are in school this year are Warner, Reis, Falconer, Crowell and Hagberg, these men coupled with Bredenberg, O'Brien, Crust, Koop, Barrows, Molstad, Lind, Olson and Dillan are expected to make up a team of distinction for the Brainerd high school this year.

PUBLIC VIEWING OF REMAINS

A More Christian Way of Paying Respects to Those Loved and Admired Who go Before

The progress of etiquette in church services is most marked and from the more crude and barbaric methods of procedure we are coming to a finer deliberation in things pertaining to the crises in our religious life.

Customs change as education advances and our finer senses become more cultivated; it is for this reason that the many customs of the yesterday although counted inspiring in their day, are now looked upon as most unfit in these days of Christian culture; sentiment and the demand for proper decorum.

For a number of years it has been the custom to hold in many churches what is nothing more or less than a "parade" after the regular funeral service. And while many of us have felt the strain of "almost barbarism" through it all, we have submitted to the tender wishes and sentiments of the bereaved and their friends.

However we feel and know of a certainty that this "parade" although in its first conception was doubtless born of a beautiful sentiment; yet now it has reached a stage where in all justice to the finer sentiments of our being and the higher conceptions of our religion; we believe we are justified in using our influence as leaders in doing our best to change a custom that has outgrown itself and become a monstrosity.

It was the foregoing belief that led the writer to present the attached resolution before the Brainerd Ministerial association last Monday.

Each minister is free to use his own judgment in the matter and will do all he can to educate his parishioners to what is believed to be a more humane and comforting service.

If a "viewing of the remains" is absolutely necessary why not confine such a "viewing" to the home of the deceased, or even in extreme cases the suggestion that the remains lie in state in the church previous to the regular service is a good one.

In any case I sincerely trust the people of Brainerd will assist their respective ministers in moving towards a more Christian way of paying their respects to the beloved and admired.

Signed: REV. G. P. SHERIDAN, Minister First Congregational Church.

The following is the statement presented by Mr. Sheridan:

"We, the undersigned ministers give notice that we are opposed to, and will use our influence to discourage the 'public viewing of remains' at church funerals.

However, should such requests be made we suggest that the body lie in state in the church one or two hours preceding the service to meet such requests."

Signed this 22nd day of November, 1915.

HOME MISSIONS

Will be Discussed at Presbyterian Church Tonight by Several Visiting Ministers

Rev. W. R. Harshaw, D. D., of Minneapolis, synodical superintendent of missions, arrived in the city yesterday from Blackduck. He will speak this evening in the Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock. Rev. J. C. Strand, of East Grand Forks, Rev. E. T. Ferry ofergus Falls and Rev. C. E. Fulton of Wheaton, will also have parts in the announcements, scripture lesson and prayers. All are cordially invited.

The meeting of the administration committee of Red River presbytery was held this afternoon at the church at which these different ministers considered the home missions interests of the district.

PETTY LARCENY CASE

County Attorney S. F. Alderman Lectures Both Sides in Pop Bottle Case at Crosby

A petty larceny case which revolved over empty pop bottles and cases which the Crosby pop man, Henry M. Wandrie, charged the Cuyuna pop man had appropriated, ended in a dismissal in the Crosby municipal court before Judge A. W. Uhl, the prosecuting attorney, S. F. Alderman of Brainerd, lecturing the pop men over bringing such a matter to court.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Grand

Dustin Farnum, well remembered as the star of the stage play, is now the hero of the latest release of the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company, "The Virginian," a magnificent five-part motion picture production, which came to the Grand last night and completely captivated the audience. Tomorrow Dorothy Donnelly in "The Sealed Valley."

At the Best

At last, after a long and anxious wait, "The Rosary" has arrived at the Best Theatre. This picture needs no introduction to the people as it has been taken from the book of the same name.

By no means is this picture a religious play. It has been indorsed by those of every faith and does not insinuate on any religion. The story is beautifully told and the acting is superb. In "The Rosary" are featured Kathryn Williams, who needs no introduction to the moving picture going people, and Frank Clark who carried the part of Dexter in "The Spoilers." These two stars insure the people of marvelous acting. By coincidence we have found that one of the actors in "The Rosary" is a Brainerd boy. We refer to Sydney Smith who plays the part of Skeeters Martin, and we may add that Mr. Smith certainly upholds the reputation with his great acting.

Every one owes it to themselves to see this great picture as it is as good as any sermon and the lesson that it teaches has long been one of the main reasons for the great success of "The Rosary."

Owing to the tremendous demand we suggest that those caring to see this picture should make an early start for the theatre. The management of this theatre has agreed to 9:00 p. m.

DOES NOT LIKE NAVAL VERDICT

Secretary Daniels Disapproves of Courtmartial.

CASE OF ADMIRAL LITTLE

Cabinet Officer Deplores Fact That Inspector of Submarine Construction Was Averse to Receiving Suggestions From Junior Officers.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Secretary Daniels disapproved the findings of the general courtmartial which acquitted Rear Admiral William N. Little, retired, of charges of negligence in connection with his duty as inspector during the construction of the submarine K-2.

No new trial, however, will be ordered.

A statement issued by the department said that, in view of the expense of further proceedings and the admitted personal and official integrity of Admiral Little, the findings merely had been disapproved without reconvening the court.

"An important sidelight upon the attitude of Admiral Little in the performance of his duties as inspector," said the statement, "is shown by the testimony of Lieutenant Moses, wherein he says that Rear Admiral Little was not easily approachable and that he, Moses, was made to feel that his opinions and recommendations would preferably be made to Rear Admiral Little's assistants.

"This attitude is furthermore exemplified in Rear Admiral Little's own testimony wherein he refers to Moses' representations concerning the battery as 'kicks' and wherein he says that they were 'kicking all the time about one thing or another.'"

The statement said the department deplores this attitude on the part of the officer and continued:

"The court after mature deliberation most fully and honorably acquitted Rear Admiral Little of the charges. The department is unable to concur with the court or, after careful review of the evidence, to ascertain the reasons governing it in its acquittal.

"In view, however, of the impracticability and expense attending the reconvening of the court and the fact that Rear Admiral Little is now no longer on inspection duty and of the improbability of his method being followed by other officers on inspection duty, and in view of his admitted personal and official integrity, the department has disapproved the findings and acquitted without reconvening the court for consideration thereof."

Secretary Daniels said his chief reason for disapproving the acquittal was because he wished to impress on older officers the necessity of giving full weight to the recommendations of their juniors.

AT LEAST SIX DEAD IN RAIL COLLISION

Columbia, Ga., Nov. 23.—Six persons are known to have been killed, eighteen others are missing and more than thirty were injured in a head on collision six miles west of here between a Central of Georgia passenger train and a special train of twenty-eight cars, carrying the Con T. Kennedy Carnival company.

The bodies of several of the missing are thought to be under the overturned cars of the show train. Twelve of the carnival company's cars were destroyed by fire and others are burning.

Two cars, containing trained animals, were destroyed, killing the animals.

The collision occurred on a straight stretch of track. A misunderstanding of orders is said to have been responsible.

The known dead and injured, except of trainmen, were persons traveling with the carnival company.

POPULATION LEAVING ISLAND

Eruption of Stromboli Volcano Assuming Serious Proportions.

Palermo, Nov. 23.—The eruption of Stromboli volcano is assuming serious proportions and the population of the island is fleeing to places of safety. The sides of the volcano are cracking and streams of lava are flowing into the sea, raising immense columns of smoke, which are visible at a distance of forty miles.

Stromboli is the northeasternmost of the Lipari islands in the Mediterranean off the north coast of Sicily. The volcano, of which the island is mainly composed, is remarkable in that it is virtually perpetually active, having been in this condition for nearly 2,000 years.

INDICTMENTS TO BE ASKED

Grand Jury Will Hear Evidence in Munitions Plot Cases.

New York, Nov. 23.—All evidence gathered by agents of the United States government here bearing on plots to prevent war munitions from reaching the entente allies will be submitted to the federal grand jury probably this week.

It is understood that when the presentation is complete blanket indictments will be asked against all the persons shown to be involved, except such as may be exempted under the law.

The mass of evidence collected is described by federal officials as "mountain high." It is the result of more than a year's work. It involves scores of persons operating. It is charged, as an organization, the direction of which was in the hands of a few men.

THREATEN BRITISH REVOLT

Unionists Oppose Shortening of Hours for Sale of Liquor.

London, Nov. 23.—Five hundred delegates to a conference of London trade unionists passed a resolution pledging themselves to resist to the utmost, "by open revolt if necessary," the regulation shortening the hours during which liquor may be sold, which comes into effect Nov. 29.

The delegates represented the printing trades, postmen, railway and vehicle workers, molders, laborers and the workmen of the clubs. The new regulations were described as an insinuation that workmen are addicted to excessive drinking.

Papers in Various Instances of Seizure Will Be Produced, Showing That Great Britain Has Unlawfully Held Up Ships From America to Neutral Ports—Arms Embargo Improbable.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 23.—[Special.]—The note which Secretary Lansing sent to Great Britain in regard to the detention of American ships and shipping is not going to be allowed to be the last word on the subject.

It is evident that Americans who have been deprived of their rights by the power of the English navy intend to assert their grievances in congress. Already resolutions have been prepared calling for papers in various cases, such as complaints made by owners of ships and merchandise who have been deprived of their property and who have had no connection whatever with the enemies of England.

The British position has been somewhat insolent and domineering. It is evident that English statesmen have no fear that the United States will declare an embargo or go to any extreme measures in protecting the rights of American people. It is assumed that protests, such as have been made, will be the extent of United States action.

Will Cause Severe Criticism.
It is evident, however, that the actions of Great Britain will be severely criticized in congress. Men who have been wronged by the British contempt for American rights have put the facts in the hands of members of both house and senate, and soon after the session begins the debate will open. Several men have prepared themselves to answer the contentions of Great Britain and to suggest reprisals of some sort which will bring England to terms. As the discussion begins it is expected that considerable hostility toward Great Britain will be manifested.

Women on the Ground.
The suffragists and anti-suffragists will camp in Washington and fight the battle over again on the matter of a constitutional amendment. The Congressional union, which has become the dominant wing of the suffragists in the national capital, will have reinforcements from different parts of the country, and, as this wing has always been the champion of the Susan B. Anthony amendment and no other, it will assume leadership and charge of the woman suffrage cause before congress.

The anti-suffragists will probably be under the command of Mrs. Dodge, the national president, who has indicated a determination to come to Washington now that the Congressional union has decided to center the whole fight on congress.

Still For Root.
Until there is such a positive decision against being a candidate on the part of ex-Senator Root as will put him entirely out of the race for president Senator Reed Smoot of Utah will continue to devote his energies toward bringing about the nomination. Smoot thinks Root can be as easily elected as any other man.

Will Be a Long Fight.
If the Democrats are really determined to have cloture in the senate it will mean a long fight without any other business being transacted. Of course the senate never does take up business at the beginning of a new session, and the time usually wasted may be devoted to the contest over changing the rules.

More For Aeronautics.
Congressman Roberts of Massachusetts, a member of the naval committee, says that the plan outlined by Secretary Daniels does not go near far enough, particularly in the development of aeronautics. He says that $5,000,000 spread over five years will not begin to meet the requirements and that at least $2,000,000 should be expended the first year. He says that the program should provide for more guns and ammunition, which he thinks is more important than anything else at the present time.

Grooming For the Senate.
Candidate Morrow, who came near defeating Stanley in Kentucky, is being groomed for the senate. He is expected to make the race against Olie James, but that is a long way off. James has two more years on Easy street before he need concern himself about re-election. By that time the presidential campaign will be over, and Kentucky may have many different political ideas.

Seized by Bryan's Enemies.
Bryan's enemies are making a great deal to do over the suggestion that he go down on the Mexican border and place himself outside of the zone of American protection and see if his peace plans will insure his safety. Such a suggestion is so far from meeting or touching the position which Bryan has taken that it is absurd. Bryan stands where the president did in his message to congress a year ago and says that any greater expenditures for military purposes are unnecessary.

REASONS FOR THANKFULNESS.

For the manifold blessings that Almighty God has showered upon us during the past year; for prosperous industries and fertile fields; for contented homes and peaceful marts; for the growing recognition that whatever is of solid benefit to a single division of our people must in time be of benefit to the people as a whole; for the extension of education and the fostering of the arts and sciences; for our preservation from flood and famine, plague and drought—for these tokens of the benignant and beneficent care of a watchful Providence it is becoming that the people should gather to offer thanks to Almighty God.

While in sorrow and compassion we view the misery and devastation which a world war has brought to our fellow beings across the ocean, while we look on at fields dyed with the blood of brave men and wet with the tears of women and little children, at homes destroyed, at commerce palsied, at proud cities leveled to the dust and progress giving way to desolation, our minds must turn in gratitude to him who has kept our nation whole and unharmed.

Bobby Burns' Thanksgiving Grace

Some hae meat and canna eat,
And some would eat that want it,
But we hae meat, and we can eat,
Sae let the Lord be thankit.

We have especial cause of congratulation in the advancement of science and virtue in our midst. It is fitting that we should, as a people, acknowledge our obligations and render our thanks to the gracious Author of all our mercies.

What Bessie Is Thankful For

I's dot a pretty dolly,
An' I's dot a nice new hat;
I's dot a picture book an' ring
An' much more fings 'an dat.

I's dot a playhouse by the creek,
Where my papa loves to fish,
An' it's dot a little broken chair
An' a pretty broken dish.

An' we's dot a turkey dinner,
An' peach an' pum'kin pie,
An' pudding, too, wif chocolate,
An' heaps of fings, oh, my!

I's dot so much I's thankful for,
Lots more'n I can tell;
But most of all I's thankful for
Is 't all of us are well.

HE OUGHT TO BE GRATEFUL.

What Better Fate For the Turkey Than Making a Whole Nation Glad?
What finish more honorable and impressive for a bird than to be fated to die to make happy an entire nation?
For this brief golden period the eagle is only a remote symbol. The Thanksgiving bird is magnificently transformed into a tempting thing of appetizing odors, an eye entrancing vision of glistening brown and bronze and bringing in its train attendants of the field that crisply show ivory white and pale emerald and translucent, liquid ruby.

In the turkey at this season there are the pride of country, the religious sense of a nation and its sustaining hopefulness, the racial family spirit that "makes the whole world akin" and provides the very essence of pleasing plenty.

Thanksgiving Pumpkin Pie.
In the Woman's Home Companion Fannie Merritt Farmer, cookery editor of that publication, presented a number of November recipes, among which is the following for pumpkin pie:
"Mix two-thirds cupful of brown sugar, one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of ginger and one-half teaspoonful of salt, and add one and one-half cupfuls of steamed and strained pumpkin, two eggs, slightly beaten, one and one-half cupfuls of milk and one-half cupful of cream. Bake in one crust."

Indians Like Turkey Feathers.
Turkeys feathers rank next in importance to those of the eagle with all Indian tribes, while the Apaches, the Pamankeys and Cheyennes chose the turkey's feathers for all ceremonial headdresses and ornaments. The Pamankey tribe also used turkey feathers for ornamental purposes on their clothing, as well as for their headgear. To this day when they don their native costumes the turkey feather is preferred as ornament by many of the Indians of America.

Be thankful for plenty of work, a heart to work, strength for work and fellowship in work. Those who find it most difficult to be thankful are those who do not know the luxury of work.

Perfection.
Nature is not perfect. Perfection, like happiness, never is, but always is to be. Nature is a perpetual becoming, always approaching perfection, but never reaching it. In the ceaseless evolution of things the course is steadily upward, but the goal still remains in the far distance. Perfection is a dream that has never been realized anywhere in the universe.—New York American.

FIVE MEN ARE DROWNED

Motorboat Is Upset by Huge Wave Near New York.

New York, Nov. 22.—Five men were drowned off Rockaway point after the capsizing of their twenty-four-foot motorboat in a squall. Two others of the party, with the aid of life preservers, kept afloat until rescued.

The stalling of the engine of the craft, owned and piloted by Captain Daniel Lorenz, placed it at the mercy of the strong wind and tide. The boat began to fill with water and the two lifebelts on the boat were given to William Webber and Henry Ross, who could not swim. A huge wave suddenly overturned the boat and Lorenz, John and Charles Ullinger, Joseph Hoffman and Albert Benovitz were drowned. Webber and Ross were rescued by another motorboat.

Heirlooms.
"Did your wealthy old uncle leave many heirlooms?" "Oh, yes. A near heir looms up every week."—Exchange.

KING CONSTANTINE'S PALACE GUARDED.

Rome, Nov. 23.—An uncensored report from Athens says that troops are now patrolling the streets and guarding the royal palace and occupying strategic positions ready to repress revolutionary attempts, which are feared.

The prevailing impression is that Greece will be forced to yield to the demands of the allies.

STRENGTH AND BEAUTY

Come with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This is a blood cleanser and alternative that starts the liver and stomach into vigorous action. It thus assists the body to manufacture rich red blood which feeds the heart, nerves, brain and organs of the body. The organs work smoothly like machinery running in oil. You feel clean, strong and strenuous instead of tired, weak and faint.

IT WAS ALL ON ACCOUNT OF A MISTAKE.

SAY, BUT HE'S MAD! GEE WHIZ!

JUDGE, I'LL BET SOMEBODY HAS TRICKED HIM. THAT'S ORDINARY TOBACCO, AND HE USES THE NEW CUT REAL TOBACCO CHEW.

W-B CUT CHEWING MEANS MORE COMFORT—MORE SATISFACTION. IT COSTS LESS BECAUSE YOU USE LESS TOBACCO. A LITTLE CHEW SATISFIES.

A MAN who uses only ordinary tobacco would probably never kick if somebody changed brands on him. But W-B CUT Cheewing—the Real Tobacco Chew, new cut, long shred—is so different from ordinary tobacco, so much more satisfying that nothing can take its place with a man who knows. Get a pouch of W-B CUT Cheewing and give it a quality test. You can tell "Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste!"
